

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

A variety of services are available to students in order to support and enhance their experiences at the University. Services and organizations are available to promote a feeling of community and comfort, as well as affording students the opportunity to participate in leadership and decision-making roles.

To learn more about Student Organizations and access helpful resources and documents, visit VCAS Student Life: Student Organizations.

Chamberlain University PA Student Society

All matriculating students are automatically members of the Chamberlain University Physician Assistant Student Society (PASS). The purpose of the Society is to foster professionalism and encourage students to become involved in professional activities.

The incoming MPAS class will elect officers in the first semester to include a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, student diversity committee representative and any other positions that the student society deems necessary.
